Six Workshop Series begins October 7, 2018

Learn how to treat infertility patients with Dr. Wen. With over 30-years of experience treating infertility patients, Dr. Wen shares his successful approach of seamlessly flowing between Western Medicine and TCM. Practitioners will complete the course confident in their abilities to understand, diagnose and treat a wide variety of patients struggling with infertility.

In this series, you will learn how to:

- Read & interpret lab data from both Western & TCM perspectives.
- Interpret hormone imbalances through the lens of TCM patterns.
- Combine Basal Body Temperature (BBT) charting with TCM.
 - Identify which phase of the cycle is at the core of the reproductive dysfunction.
 - Learn how infertility pattern differentiation varies from conventional TCM pattern differentiation.
- Easily differentiate & identify the unique TCM diagnoses that are at the root of infertility.
- Confidently choose formulas and points based on specific diagnoses.
- Use TCM to support patients going through IVF protocols.
- Understand supplements using TCM concepts and terminology.
- Evaluate and choose supplements & diet recommendations based on patients' patterns
 - Dissect case studies illustrating various patterns & understand concrete treatment plans complete with point selection, formula selection, diet recommendations & supplement suggestions for each case.
- Each workshop focuses on specific female & male patterns of infertility and take a deep dive into the treatment protocols and formulas used for the pattern discussed. The sixth (last) workshop will be dedicated solely to male infertility issues.
